Hello RPA Families!

Since we did not have a newsletter last week, I wanted to share with you about our book fair. We sold $700 worth of Scholastic books. However, when you partner with Scholastic, you also get Scholastic dollars and we received $350.

In other words, your participation in the book fair allowed us to buy new books for our school as well as donate some books to the Share the Love event.

I look forward to more book fairs in the future.

-Mrs. Hans

Pillar of the Month: Integrity

Announcements

- We will be celebrating our first ever, “Pillar Day,” next Friday, February 22nd. This day brings the student body and staff together to celebrate the community of our school. We will be tidying, organizing, and adding community flair to RPA, and much more! If you would be interested in coming by that day to help as a volunteer, please contact the office.
- Skills Day at Clackamas Community College is coming up on February 28th. It is for high school students. More information coming soon.
- We are looking for volunteers to come and read with our elementary school kids. Call if you are interested and we can get you more information.

Reminders:

- Latin Convention monday DUE this Thursday.
- Field Trip this Thursday, February 14th for 6th/7th. Also, many students have not paid for this yet, so please have your child bring their money to school at their next opportunity.
- 7th/8th grade parents: Please be sure to return your child’s permission slips for Health class. They are due ASAP.
- Save the date (9th-12th)-Prom will be on Friday, April 6th
This Week’s Events:
  ● Homework Club with Ms. Tosti tomorrow from 3:30-5:30pm.
  ● Site Council meeting tomorrow at RPA (weather permitting)
  ● Pancake lunch this Thursday. $3